Good composition. Shows action and emotion - just what a sports photo is supposed to.

On Sunday, October 26 the Heritage College Hurricanes women's rugby team played the Dawson Blues at Heritage campus. The winner of this game would move on to play in the provincial semi-finals in Montreal. It was a soggy game that made great entertainment for the fans as Heritage player and Aylmer resident, Alanna McColl, made a splash during a hard tackle on a Blues player. Heritage went on to win the game by a score of 29-11 to clinch a play-off spot. (DM) PHOTOS: DAVID McCOLL

A difficult shot to capture with the action, as well as it being indoors. Great exposure and stopping of motion.

Great capturing of emotion makes this a good sports photo.
