

BEST FEATURE PHOTO

There were some very good entries in this category, making it a challenge to cull the selections down to the top three. I felt these represent the essential qualities of a good feature photo: tells a story, has a strong center of interest, thoughtful composition, technically strong and creatively executed.

1

TRISH CHIASSON

the Nation

Strong image, excellent composition, exposure, and impact. Works very well with the design. Live performances can be difficult to photograph, for multiple reasons, such as lighting changes, movement, point of access, and generally no real control of the scene by the photographer. To get a successful image that can be incorporated into the design this nicely...very well done.

2

DAVID KILABUK

Nunatsiaq News

Excellent composition and exposure. Quietly powerful, evocative, strongly imparts a sense of place. Snow and water can be challenging to photograph due to strong reflections, and high contrast properly exposing for light and shadow can be tough. In this image, the technical and aesthetic meshed very well. It's something I'd mat and frame, and hang on my wall.

3

CLARE KINES

Nunatsiaq News

Love the frozen moment, with the papers mid-air! Dynamic, joyous, emotive! Good capture, good use of flash/strobe. Color saturation, exposure and composition is very good, and makes for a fun, memorable image.

Judge: Eric Smith, Graphics/Photography Freelancer (Retired from University of Tennessee Office of Student Media), Knoxville, TN • Number of entries in the Best Feature Photo category: 17

~THANK YOU TO

Québec

Geoffrey Kelley
Député/ MNA Jacques-Cartier
Ministre responsable des Affaires autochtones
Minister responsible for Native Affairs
620, Boulevard St-Jean, bureau 206
Pointe-Claire (Québec), H9R 3K2
T. : 514-697-7663, F.: 514-697-6499
Geoffrey.Kelley@mce.gouv.qc.ca

LocalMedia
association

Dominique ANGLADE

Member for Saint-Henri-Sainte-Anne
Quebec Liberal Party
Minister of Economy, Science and Innovation
Minister responsible for the Digital Strategy